DAY 6
DISCOVERY CLAIM AND DREDGE NO. 4
Explore the Klondike goldfields! Visit the Discovery Claim, follow the trail and stand in the spot where the nugget that started the Klondike gold rush was found in 1896. 1 KLUANE ICEFIELDS
“When I first visited Kluane National Park in 1994, I couldn’t imagine the immensity of the Icefields since they aren’t visible from the Alaska Highway. Now I know... I’ve been up there for two camping trips at the Discovery Base Camp. Spectacular!”
Gary - Park Superintendent

2 INSPIRATION POINT
“The mountains soaring above you at Inspiration Point in Inuvik National Park and the wide valley below you are spectacular. Learning to view this landscape through the caring and connected eyes of our local Inuvialuit guides is absolutely heartwarming.”
Sarah - Resource Management Officer

3 FRIEZE ART
“Blink and you could miss this tiny section of faded wallpaper in the summer of the Commissioner’s Residence in Dawson City. It’s what remains of a frieze hand-painted by former Canadian politician and influential Yukoner, Martha Black. I love the way this small, delicate, personal touch contrasts with the stately furnishings in the home.”
Jenna - Public Outreach Education Officer

4 SUMMIT LAKE VIEW
“Whenever I go to Grizzly Bear Hot Springs in Nááts’ihch’oh National Park Reserve, there is one place that I try to catch a few minutes to just sit. It’s a big, flat rock at the source of Shúhzhié káili (The Creek Is Flowing Out of the Mountain). Watching the creek flow straight out of the rock andlistening to its bubbling notes, I like to think it’s the music the Elders say the mountains are keeping.”
Lyn - Former Visitor Experience Team Leader

5 SALLIKULUK
“Rose Island, (Sallikuluk in Inuktitut) has been used by generations of Inuit who have lived, hunted, and gathered here. Part of Tungavik Mountains National Park, this small island in Saglek Bay is a resting place for Inuit with over 600 traditional Inuit rock graves. When you step onto the island you know you have arrived at a truly special place.”
Gary - Park Superintendent

6 HIKE ALONG THE HUDSON BAY
“Vibrant wildflowers in bloom, 18th-century graffiti etched in stone, and beluga whales swimming off in the distance – the hike from Sloop Cove to Prince of Wales Fort National Historic Site is a breathtaking site to see and experience.”
Duane - Acting Visitor Experience Manager

7 UNIQUE HOT SPRINGS
“Wherever I go to Grizzly Bear Hot Springs in Nááts’ihch’oh National Park Reserve, there is one place that I try to catch a few minutes to just sit. It’s a big, flat rock at the source of Shúhzhié káili (The Creek Is Flowing Out of the Mountain). Watching the creek flow straight out of the rock andlistening to its bubbling notes, I like to think it’s the music the Elders say the mountains are keeping.”

The Mealy Mountains holds great cultural significance for the Innu, Inuit and others. One of Canada’s newest parks, it protects 10,700 km² of mountain tundra, marine coasts, boreal forests, islands, and rivers. In these early years for the park, potential visitors should be aware there is minimal infrastructure and services, including search and rescue capabilities. In the coming years, Parks Canada will work with Indigenous partners and others in the tourism sector to create the experiences and services that will eventually be available to visitors.
